Product description

Module prepared for a water tap

The modular tap module is the appropriate addition for ORDO modular socket columns and allows the integration of a water connection into a functional supply column. It has been specially designed for use in modular column systems and is ideal for outdoor areas, gardens, commercial spaces or locations where electrical and water connections should be centrally available.

The tap module is designed for easy installation. It is inserted into the designated module receptacle of the socket column and securely fixed there. The thoughtful construction allows quick replacement of individual modules, enabling extensions or adjustments to be implemented efficiently.

The module is prepared for the connection of a tap. The scope of delivery includes a weld-on socket Rp 1/2" made of stainless steel 1.4571 according to DIN 2986 and a 90° screw-in elbow Rp 1/2" internal thread to R 1/2" external thread made of galvanized malleable cast iron. The prepared design facilitates the on-site installation of a suitable tap.

Note: Delivery does not include a tap. The module is prepared exclusively for the on-site installation of a suitable 1/2" tap.
